If you have a birth mother, stepmother, and/or adoptive mother, select the highest level of education completed by any of them.

What is the highest level of education completed by your father? *

If you have a birth father, stepfather, and/or adoptive father, select the highest level of education completed by any of them.

Evidence of Academic Preparedness

Which of the below best describes your high school graduation status? *

- I am a high school senior or will earn my high school credential by June 2018.
- I have already graduated or earned my high school credential.

Are you participating in Running Start? *

- Yes
- No

Did you participate in Running Start while in high school? *

- Yes
- No

Have you earned any college credits since graduating from high school or earning your GED (excluding any you may have earned in Running Start)? *

- Yes
- No

Please select which of the below best describes how you earned or will earn your high school credential. *

Please report the date you earned or will earn your high school credential. *

Please select the Washington state high school or tribal school from which you received or will receive your diploma. *

Please type the name of your high school below. *

Please type the name of the institution from which you were or will be granted your GED below. *

Please type the name of institution which granted or will grant your alternative high school credential below. *

Please select the school district in which your "Intent to Homeschool" was filed. *

[After completing this section, you will be reminded that you must submit official transcripts. Depending on your educational experience you'll need to submit one or more of the following transcripts that apply to your specific situation: official homeschool transcript, high school transcript, official GED score, Running Start credits and/or official transcripts from colleges or universities where you've attended through fall 2017. Failure to do so will result in your application not being considered. Even if your high school does not report a GPA, you are still required to submit your official high school transcript to apply for this scholarship. We will work with your school to determine your eligibility.]

Please select the institution you most recently attended or are currently attending from the list below.

Please type the name of the university you most recently attended or are currently attending below.

[In this section you'll be prompted to enter either a Grade Point Average (GPA, rounded to two decimals) through fall 2017 from your high school transcript, Running Start college, college or university you are attending or GED score, as applicable to your situation.]

Attended from (date): *

Attended to (date): *

Have you attended any other colleges since earning your high school credential?

Please list all other colleges you have attended since graduating from high school or earning your GED. Include dates of attendance, starting with the most recent. If you don't know the exact day the term started or ended, please use the first of the month. For example, fall term 2012 would be 09/01/2012.

Academic Future

Please select the Washington state college or university where you plan to be enrolled during the fall of 2018. *

If you are not yet sure at which institution you will be enrolled, choose your top choice. If selected, you may notify us of a change in May 2018 when you would be required to formally accept the scholarship.

Not all majors are available at all universities. It is your responsibility to check with the academic advising office on your campus to ensure that your intended major of study has the same CIP code as the major you indicate below.

This scholarship exclusively supports students who have a dedicated interest in pursuing specific, high-demand STEM and health care fields. If your specific major is not on this list, you are not eligible to apply. If your plans change in the future, and you decide to pursue a major that is not included on the list below, you will be unable to renew your scholarship for future years. If selected, you will be expected to remain in an eligible major to continue receiving funding and will periodically be required to provide evidence of study.

Select the eligible, high-demand STEM or health care major that best describes your academic plans. *

You selected "Accounting and Computer Science". This is not the same major as "Accounting" which is ineligible. *

I acknowledge that this major is not "Accounting".

You indicated interest in a high-demand STEM or health care field above. Please restate your commitment to that major below.

Type the CIP Code of the major of interest you indicated above. *

The CIP code is the number that immediately follows the major you selected from the drop down option above.

Type the name of the major of interest you indicated above. *

Enter your four digit birth year.

Financial Information

We strongly recommend completing the FAFSA and/or WASFA before you complete the section below so you have the required information available. To answer the following questions, you may reference your 2018-2019 FAFSA and/or WASFA, 2018-2019 SAR or 2016 tax return. While you may complete this section using estimates, you must submit the 2018-2019 FAFSA and/or 2018-2019 WASFA by the deadline of March 7, 2018, to be considered eligible for this scholarship. The WASFA is available at <http://www.readyssetgrad.org/wasfa>. The FAFSA is available at <https://fafsa.ed.gov/>.

You are a DEPENDENT student if your parent(s) or guardian(s) were or will be required to provide financial information when you complete(d) the 2018-19 FAFSA or WASFA.

Release & Consent

By my electronic signature on this form I consent to:

Authorizing all information now approved for release to be transferred to another organization should another organization other than Washington STEM (WA STEM), the current program administrator, be later named as the program administrator for this scholarship.

Authorizing the use of any and all information from this application in connection with WSOS research and evaluation activities. This includes academic or financial information as long as this will not be made available to the public in a form that would allow a single student to be identified. Stated differently, application information may be made available to the public in an aggregated form, however, such as an average or a total for a group of students.

Authorizing any college or university that I/my child attends while receiving the Washington State Opportunity Scholarship to release to WSOS information including, but not limited to: academic records, transcripts, program of study, academic major, state residency, financial aid, information from FAFSA or WASFA and any other pertinent information needed by WSOS, both while a student and after I/my child am/is no longer attending, in order to manage and report on this program.

Authorizing the Washington Student Achievement Council, or their successor, and WSOS to share any information received from my/my child's FAFSA or WASFA, scholarship application or transcript, for as long as necessary to manage and report on this scholarship.

If you/your child are/is selected for this scholarship, WSOS may (1) release your/your child's name and the name of the college or university you/your child are/is attending to interested parties such as news media, school districts, governmental agencies, and legislative personnel for the purpose of recognizing the accomplishments of scholarship recipients, and (2) use my/my child's name, picture, or likeness (the "Likeness Materials") for any program or WSOS purpose.
